Emne: RE: National censure of international intelligence research

Dear all,

My silence is because I cannot think of anything to add to what others have said. When we think of academic fraud we think of tampering with or fabrication of data. When I unsuccessfully applied for emeritus status a poorly informed Alliant dean said publishing on racial differences in intelligence is contrary to the APA standards. This dean, however, did not accuse me of fraud. The methodology of the Templer and Arikawa 2006 IQ and skin color article was criticized but the critics did not say we engaged in fraud. What Helmut wrote was just the opposite of fraud. He spoke the truth.
